WORLD RECORDS FOR MITSUBISHI

Mitsubishi Electric was awarded three Guinness World Records - two for fastest elevator and one for tallest elevator - during a ceremony in Tokyo on December 8. All units are in China's tallest building, the 632-m-tall Shanghai Tower in Shanghai. The elevators certified by Guinness World Records are the fastest lift, traveling at 1,230 mpm, from the basement to 119th floor in approximately 53 s.; tallest lift, a pair of emergency-use units that traverse 578.55 m between the third basement level and 121st floor; and, fastest double-deck elevator, a unit that travels at 600 mpm between the ground floor and 101st-floor lobby.
